Although this is not a new tool from the Avira company, I was a bit surprised to see that the Autorun Virus Remover is capable of so much. Besides scanning local and USB devices, it also fixes exe file associations, Registry Editor, Active Tasks and Task Manager. In fact, it has a dedicated tool to disable writing to USB disks, and to secure them by removing the autorun virus which can infect your drives.

AUTORUN.VIRUS is a worm that shows up in a lot of self-extracting files. The files can be downloaded from the Internet or can be embedded in other files. The files can be sent to you by someone you know or you may download them by yourself. If your computer is infected, you will see a message in the system tray and the Autorun.Virus worm will search for a file called AutoRun.Vir.au. The worm then waits until you click on it, click on Open, or double-click on the file. The worm then runs. This program will search your computer for other AutoRun.Vir.au files. It will then delete the AutoRun.Vir.au files it finds. If it finds any AutoRun.Vir.au file, it will delete the file. This program will then install its own versions of the AutoRun.Vir.au files. It will also modify your autostart.ini file. What's New in the Autorun Virus Remover?

Autorun Virus Remover is a new utility to the Autorun Virus solutions and in case you're still fighting with the dreaded Autorun virus, here's a solution that can be a real time saver, once and for all. Autorun Virus Remover scans the computer and the removable drives and not only that, it removes the existing infections as well, it can also protect removable as well as local disks. First-time users will have to follow a simple wizard that guides them through their first computer scanning process with this application, thus helping them make sure the machine and the removable drives that are plugged in are not infected. The interface of the software is rather plain and allows you to either initiate a scan, analyze the running processes, play a little bit with the settings or fix the system in case you're already infected and you wish to repair the 'Task manager', the registry editor, disabled 'Folder Options' or exe file associations. Autorun Virus Remover comes with a dedicated tool to immunize USB drives and local disks, so you just have to pick the drive you want to secure and click 'Apply'. On the other hand, there's also a dedicated tool for unlocking USB devices, disabling the usage of removable units or writing data to the USB storage devices. Everything went pretty smoothly during our test and we experienced absolutely no issues. Windows 7 users should keep in mind that they have to right-click the executable file or the shortcut and use the 'Run as Administrator' option in order to have the tool function properly. Overall, Autorun Virus Remover is one of the most advanced Autorun fighters we've seen until now and in case you're still struggling to deal with this type of infection, this tool should get the job done. Windows Autorun Remover Auto-virus or virus that automatically infects the infected files such as music, documents, pictures, programs and the like. As an additional feature, the virus attaches itself to any CD-ROM/DVD-ROM and then makes the victim use it when he/she inserts the CD into the drive. Autorun virus is a type of computer virus that activates itself automatically when a user inserts a CD-ROM or DVD into a computer or when a floppy disk is used to boot a computer. As of May 2008, it is by far the most widely used computer virus in the world, with more than 26.1 million people infected with it. The "Autorun.inf" file associated with this virus is found on
