

Today, we're honored to provide you with an exclusive look at the first five modes and features of "HyperMotion." We're talking about the things that will make FIFA 22 the definitive version of the game. We've redesigned the game core engine to deliver the ultimate match experience. In FIFA, millions of fans have experienced the excitement of players, teams and stadiums. But to add to your FIFA experience, we've undertaken a massive overhaul of the game engine to deliver the ultimate match experience. We've gone full circle, back to when the game was initially created - from the first version of the team-mate AI to the new artificial intelligence (A.I.) in gameplay and animations. We've improved nearly all aspects of the match engine, from player animation and physics, to physics, ball physics and game controls. We've also re-written the control logic and AI routines to ensure optimum player movement and responsiveness on the pitch. Managing complexity has always been one of the core mechanics of any game, and we have used that expertise to simplify the control logic and make sure every player in the game has a simple set of behaviors. This is an essential aspect of the game mechanics as it reduces friction and allows the player to focus on his or her actions. The game design philosophy of FIFA has never changed. We have always cared about immersion and immersion-inducing gameplay. We want the player to focus on the field, not the characters on the field. We have always asked ourselves what is a happy medium between progression and frustration? And if that means not adding new features, but improving existing ones. We will continue to do so. I'm not saying all of you will not be able to build your dream teams or play in the matches like before. However, we have introduced gameplay innovations that allow for the creation of more varied match scenarios. We will share more details about gameplay innovations and elements that enrich the experience of the game in the future. What you will see in FIFA 22 is not a revolution. Instead, we're delivering on what we've always planned for. We think you'll love FIFA 22 as we have enjoyed making it and watching people enjoy playing it. The new features in the game will help you choose the perfect start to your team's league season, depending on the
