I'm trying to convert a csv file with the following columns in a specific order to a javascript object: Column1, Column2,..., Columnn I want to include only the data between brackets and their corresponding delimiter. Sample csv data to be converted: ["Author, Title, Page, Year", "Dave Winer, JavaScript: The Good Parts", "30", "2010"] ["Casey Paul and Russ Olsen, JavaScript: ES6 and ES7 Solutions For Modern Applications", "25", "2012"] ["John J. Stephens and J. Allyn Taylor, JavaScript: The Good Parts", "30", "2011"] If it were in an array like this it would be a lot easier to do but I can't find anything relating to this specific issue. I've tried many different things but am now looking for code example(s) or links to better online examples. A: You can use.map() method and arguments object as follows
